

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON THE JOB ADVERTISEMENT FOR THE ASSOCIATE POSITION OF

-SENIOR RESEARCH ASSISTANT-

Job description of the associate position

The senior research assistant conducts scientific research in accordance with the Institute's scientific research program, publishes results of scientific and development research, participates in scientific training, works on the improvement of scientific activities, conducts other tasks related to the Institute's scientific activity, fulfils obligations according to the general act on employment into associate positions, and conducts other tasks assigned by the head of the scientific department and director of the Institute.

More precisely, in relation to the bilateral project "Adoption of Artificial Intelligence in Public Administration to Combat Corruption – AI-PACOR" funded by the Croatian Science Foundation within the Research Projects programme (IP-2025-02), the senior research assistant participates in analyzing semi-structured interviews with public administration representatives, collecting secondary data, training (funded by the AI-PACOR project budget), co-authoring scientific papers, and presenting at conferences.

Information on the salary:

- In accordance with the Regulation on job titles, categorization requirements, and coefficients for salary calculation in public services, for the position of senior research assistant, the job complexity coefficient is 2.55, which amounts approximately to a net salary of EUR 1,700, plus transportation costs.

Testing:

A selection procedure involving a structured interview will be organized for shortlisted candidates.